About me

3+ years in music licensing, rights and publishing across B2C subscription apps, spanning the full deal lifecycle: sourcing and evaluating opportunities, negotiating with publishers and PROs, and closing agreements through to clearance and reporting.

I specialize in building and closing licensing partnerships that expand catalogue reach, bridging Legal, Finance and commercial partners to structure deals, model their economics and keep them running through their full lifecycle.

At Learnfield I built and run the licensing function across a multi-brand portfolio of consumer music-learning apps, owning publisher and PRO relationships end-to-end: sourcing opportunities, negotiating terms, and managing contracts and rights data in daily collaboration with Legal, Finance and content teams.

Core strengths

- New business development: identifying, evaluating and pursuing licensing opportunities across publishers, PROs, digital platforms and education providers
- Deal negotiation and closing: publisher and PRO negotiation, royalty mechanics, settlement and dispute resolution in regulated, multi-brand environments
- Commercial and financial modeling: deal economics, royalty and recoupment analysis, and scenario modeling to prioritize opportunities by financial impact
- Licensing frameworks and rights clearance: standardized deal structures and clearance workflows across catalogue and licensing databases
- Cross-functional partnership with Legal, Finance, Business Affairs and Content teams to structure and land deals
- Confident communication with internal stakeholders and external partners; trilingual in German, English and Spanish

Experience

Learnfield GmbH

2024 - Present

License Manager & Product Owner • Berlin, Germany

- Own music licensing, rights and contract operations across a multi-brand portfolio of consumer subscription apps (Skoove and others), operating internationally in 7 languages.
- Originated the route to a major US entertainment music catalogue closed to the company for years: mapped the rights structure, identified the right counterparty and decision-maker, and designed the direct-outreach strategy now in motion.

- Negotiated a multi-territory blanket license to roughly 73% below the rights body's opening proposal by commissioning and defending an independent market-share assessment.
- Built the financial model for a multi-year royalty reconciliation across two publisher and PRO agreements, surfacing overcharges and structuring a six-figure recoupment plan.
- Draft, negotiate and review licensing agreements with publishers and performance rights organizations, then manage them across the full lifecycle from deal terms through clearance to contractual follow-through.
- Direct interlocutor with publishers and PROs on rights clearance, contract negotiation, royalty mechanics and dispute resolution; trained directly by the CEO/CPO in deal negotiation.
- Evaluate inbound partnership proposals and new repertoire on rights exposure and commercial impact, prioritizing the licensing pipeline and routing cleared content into the catalogue.
- Coordinated the full cycle of optimizing internal content delivery tools, reducing end-to-end process time by 70%.

Learnfield GmbH

2022 - 2024

Education Content Manager, Skoove (Piano Learning App) • Berlin, Germany

- Owned the full content release cycle end-to-end: scoping, licensing clearance, localization, marketing handoff and post-launch performance review, across quarterly cadences shipping up to 260+ songs at a time.
- Drove continuous catalogue expansion for globally available apps, including major regional pushes into Japanese and Korean markets, with localized repertoire routed through cleared publishers.
- Built the operational foundation of the company's licensing function: publisher partner pages, publisher-by-publisher content-tactics matrix and rights-ownership workflows now used by Engineering, Content and Marketing.
- Maintained accurate publisher and rights data and ran monthly reporting and user surveys to prioritize the catalogue and surface high-impact repertoire.
